

Cuban and Iranian foreign ministers hold talks ahead of UN General Assembly

Havana, September 21 (RHC) -- Cuban Foreign Minister Bruno Rodriguez held talks on Saturday with his Iranian counterpart, Seyed Abbas Araghchi, on the eve of the start of the 79th UN General Assembly.

The top Cuban diplomat ratified his country's commitment to strengthen ties with the Persian nation.

Both agreed on the need to confront the arbitrary unilateral coercive measures imposed by the United States against their countries, Rodriguez confirmed in a message posted on his X account. The Cuban minister arrived in New York the day before to participate in the high-level week of the 69th UN General Assembly, which will begin on Sunday and run until September 30.

The grand event will bring together hundreds of world leaders at the United Nations headquarters with spaces dedicated to the promotion of sustainable development, the end of the use of nuclear weapons, the threat of rising sea levels, antimicrobials and the Summit of the Future.
