Excellent state of relations between Mexico and Cuba is highlighted

Havana, September 24 (RHC) The Secretary of Foreign Affairs of Mexico, Alicia Bárcena, this Monday highlighted the meeting with Cuban Foreign Minister Bruno Rodríguez at the UN headquarters.

In her X profile, Bárcena said she spoke with Rodríguez about the development of cooperation programs between the two countries.

They also addressed topics of interest in the region, such as initiatives regarding public health and health self-sufficiency, attention to migratory flows, and the impact of illegal economic sanctions on them.

The Mexican official thanked the confirmation of the participation of Cuban president Miguel Díaz-Canel in the inauguration of the elected president, Claudia Sheinbaum, which will take place on October 1.

For his part, during the meeting in the context of the 79th session of the United Nations General Assembly, Rodríguez thanked Mexico and its current President Andrés Manuel López Obrador for their support in the face of the difficult situation the island is going through. (Source: PL)
