Beirut, October 6 (RHC)-- The Lebanese Islamic resistance group Hezbollah reported that this Saturday at 13H00 local time it launched a drone squadron attack on the Israeli Samson base (leadership equipment center and a regional equipment unit), while its fighters foiled several attempts by the Israeli occupiers to violate the Lebanese border.

According to the announcement, the Lebanese resistance targeted the locations of the occupying officers and soldiers, and hit their targets accurately. This action is in addition to the launching during the last days of about 800 missiles against military sites of the Zionist entity located in the north of the occupied Palestinian territories.

In the context of the Zionist escalation against Lebanon, during the last days multiple attacks by the resistance have been reported to prevent Israeli troops from entering their territory with infantry.

Hezbollah reported that Israeli soldiers attempted to infiltrate towards Khallet Shuaib in Blida, and its fighters attacked at 12H10 local time on Sunday with artillery shells. The occupants were forced to retreat and suffered confirmed casualties.

A volley of 60 rockets were reportedly fired at the Israeli settlement of Kiryat Shmona, an announcement confirmed by the police station. Israeli media reported heavy gunfire and the deployment of attack helicopters near the settlement in the town of Kiryat Shmona, reports Al Mayadeen.

Fighters targeted a concentration of soldiers in the Al-Manara settlement with missiles, as enemy forces attempted to evacuate wounded and dead soldiers in the settlement.

There was also a major ambush near the Lebanese-Palestinian border. After their attempted incursion through the border town of Odeissah failed, Israeli forces were ambushed. Armed clashes subsequently broke out in the area, which has been the scene of heavy fighting in recent days.

Al Mayadeen also reports that Hezbollah launched dozens of missiles at a concentration of occupation soldiers at the Jal al-Deir site, located on the Lebanese-Palestinian border. An hour earlier it targeted with missiles soldier concentrations in the Katzrin settlement in the occupied Syrian Golan and targeted enemy forces in Dan in the Palestinian north.

Earlier the Shiite militia bombed the Israeli military industries company Elta, near Sakhnin, in the Bay of Acre, after attacking the Maale Golani barracks, both with a volley of missiles.
