

Number of migrants dying in New Mexico increases tenfold

Albuquerque, October 17 (RHC)-- In the U.S., the number of migrants dying in New Mexico near the U.S.-Mexico border has increased tenfold over the past five years.

Over 220 bodies have been found since January 2023. Many of the victims are believed to have died from dehydration and malnutrition as they attempted to cross scorching hot desert or mountain areas to seek refuge in the United States.
