Beirut, November 2 (RHC)-- The Washington Post is reporting Israel's bombing campaign in southern Lebanon has now damaged or destroyed nearly 5,900 buildings near the Israeli border. That's about 25% of all buildings in the area. Lebanon's Ministry of Health reported six medics were killed Thursday in Israel's ongoing attacks.

Israel bombed the southern suburbs of Beirut overnight, destroying dozens more buildings. Lebanon's Prime Minister Najib Mikati blasted Israel over the latest attacks, saying it is a sign that Israel is rejecting efforts to secure a ceasefire.

Meanwhile, Hezbollah responded with rocket attacks on northern Israel Thursday that killed seven people, including four agricultural workers from Thailand.
