

Cuban president receives vice-president of Chinese Cooperation Agency

Image not found or type unknown

Havana, November 16 (RHC) -- The First Secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Cuba and President of the Republic, Miguel Díaz-Canel received Friday the vice president of China's International Development Cooperation Agency, Liu Jianfeng, on a visit to the country.

In his account on the social network X, the dignitary said that the meeting with the Chinese official was useful and timely to thank the support of the Asian giant.

Díaz-Canel and Liu Jianfeng agreed to move forward in building a community of shared future between the two countries.

The senior official conveyed to the Antillean leader "cordial greetings and best wishes" from the president and general secretary of the Communist Party of China, Xi Jiping.

Liu said that the leader of the Asian giant pays close attention to Sino-Cuban relations and has been very concerned about the earthquakes, hurricanes and the situation of the Cuban people.

"In the first half of this year, Xi Jiping instructed a group of measures to support Cuba with assistance, and now, with these events, he approved to deploy a second round," said the vice president of that cooperation entity. (Source: Prensa Latina)

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/nacionales/369826-cuban-president-receives-vice-president-of-chinese-cooperation-agency>

Radio Habana Cuba