

France reports Israel has violated Lebanon ceasefire 52 times

Paris, December 3 (RHC)-- Israel is continuing to strike Lebanon despite last week's ceasefire. France has accused Israel of violating the ceasefire at least 52 times. Meanwhile, residents of southern Lebanon continue to return home to assess damage caused by Israel's invasion, defying threats by Israeli forces not to travel south.

Hamza al Outa ran a soup kitchen out of his home in the city of Baalbek, which was destroyed in the Israeli invasion. He told reporters: "This kitchen, where we used to cook in the month of Ramadan, we used to cook for special occasions to be able to feed orphans, residents and those in need that nobody is looking out for. ... Two thousand five hundred people daily in Ramadan, 30 days, 2,500 people, used to eat the food from this kitchen. Are there rockets in this kitchen? What's in this kitchen? They did not even show mercy to those in need. Even those in need, they did not spare. Where's the mercy?"
