

Ebola Death Toll Nears 7,000; Report Faults WHO Response

London, December 18 (RHC)-- The official death toll from an Ebola outbreak in West Africa is climbing toward 7,000 as a new report faults the international community for its slow response.

A report by a British parliamentary committee said the World Health Organization and countries around the world failed to heed clear warnings about the disease's spread.

In Sierra Leone, meanwhile, an 11th doctor has died of Ebola, as the country has launched house-to-house searches to root out cases in the capital of Freetown.
