

Trinidad and Tobago Parliamentary Delegation to Visit Cuba

Port of Spain, February 5 (RHC) — In news from Trinidad and Tobago, House Speaker Wade Mark is expected to lead a Trinitarian parliamentary delegation on a visit to Cuba, cabinet sources announced.

The delegation will visit the National Assembly of People's Power in Havana and meet with officials to discuss parliamentary procedures and related matters.

The visit is being described as parliamentary exchanges, sources said. The trip to Cuba runs from February 10th to the 16th and apart from Mark, the Minister of National Diversity and Social Integration Rodger Samuel and the Opposition Senator Lester Henry are also expected to attend.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/nacionales/45796-trinidad-and-tobago-parliamentary-delegation-to-visit-cuba>

Radio Habana Cuba