

Cuba and UK Hold Managerial Forum

Havana, April 28 (RHC) -- More than 30 leading company executives from the United Kingdom and their Cuban counterparts are discussing business possibilities in the context of a managerial forum opened Tuesday in Havana.

The meeting takes place on the occasion of the three-day visit to the island of Lord Hutton, co-president of Cuba Initiative, a British-Cuban project aimed at promoting a closer relationship between London and Havana.

According to a statement by the organizers of this Forum, participants are examining areas for joint economic projects, energy, mining, tourism, biotechnology and agriculture.
