

Vietnam and Cuba to Bolster Legislative Ties

Hanoi, July 3 (VNS-RHC) — Vietnamese President Truong Tan Sang held a meeting on Thursday with the head of the People's Supreme Court of Cuba, Ruben Remigio Ferro, during which he said Vietnam was willing to share its experiences and wanted to learn from Cuba's judicial sector.

Sang said that Vietnam's main goal was to protect the legitimate rights of the State in order to consolidate the people's trust.

The Vietnamese president said that the two sides should enhance exchanges in juridical, legislative and training experiences.

For his part, Remigio Ferro said that the two sides had exchanged experiences and signed a cooperation agreement, with a focus on education.
