Hack of U.S. Government Data Impacted 21.5 Million

Washington, July 11 (RHC)-- The Barack Obama administration has acknowleged a breach of government computer systems was far worse than they initally disclosed.

Hackers stole information including fingerprints and Social Security numbers from 21.5 million people. The Office of Personnel Management said everyone who received a government background check over the last 15 years was likely impacted.

https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/62200-hack-of-us-government-data-impacted-215-million

Radio Habana Cuba