

Inter-Ministerial Cuba-Russia Consultations End in Moscow

Moscow, August 7 (RHC) -- Cuba and Russia on Thursday concluded a two-day round of inter-ministerial consultations in the field of multilateral affairs.

The Cuban delegation, headed by the general director of multilateral affairs and international law at the Cuban Foreign Ministry, Pedro Nunez Mosquera, held talks with his Russian counterpart on a wide range of relevant issues on the international agenda.

During the discussions, both parties ratified their common position on a wide variety of issues, including coordination at international forums.
