

Chelsea Manning Facing Solitary for Expired Toothpaste, Magazine

Leavenworth, August 13 (RHC)-- Lawyers for U.S. Army whistleblower Chelsea Manning say she could face punishment of indefinite solitary confinement for having an expired tube of toothpaste, an issue of Vanity Fair in which transgender celebrity Caitlyn Jenner describes her new life as a woman, the U.S. Senate report on torture and other "prohibited property" in her cell.

Chelsea Manning is also accused of "showing disrespect" for asking to see her lawyer in a discussion with a prison officer. Manning is serving a 35-year sentence for leaking U.S. government cables to WikiLeaks.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/65646-chelsea-manning-facing-solitary-for-expired-toothpaste-magazine>

Radio Habana Cuba