

Police Unearth Mass Graves of Human Trafficking Victims in Malaysia

Kuala Lumpur, August 24 (RHC)-- In Malaysia, police say they have unearthed the mass graves of more than 20 people who are believed to be human trafficking victims.

The graves were found along the border with Thailand in a region known as a transit point for human smuggling. The site was close to where authorities found a mass grave containing the remains of 26 bodies in May.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/66726-police-unearth-mass-graves-of-human-trafficking-victims-in-malaysia>

Radio Habana Cuba