

Brazilian Women Protest Bill Limiting Access to Contraception

Image not found or type unknown

Rio de Janeiro, October 30 (teleSUR-RHC)-- Thousands of people gathered

Protesters gathered in front of the National Assembly chanting slogans

"We will not allow the violence we are victims of to become institutionalized,

Demonstrators held one-minute of silence as a tribute to victims of illegal ab

Meanwhile, inside the National Assembly, lawmakers were approving the final re

On October 21st, a lower chamber's commission approved a bill seeking to limit

The bill also compels rape victims to file a complaint at the police station a

However, many reports have internationally demonstrated that rape victims in g

A public security report from Forum Seguranca registered more than 50,000 rape

In Brazil, rape victims have allowed to abort since 1940 - as well as pregnant

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/74341-brazilian-women-protest-bill-limiting-access-to-contraception>

Radio Habana Cuba