

Haiti Protests Grow Amid Electoral Fraud Allegations

Port-Au-Prince, November 13 (teleSUR-RHC)-- The country is going through

Thousands of opposition supporters marched on Thursday through the streets

In a statement released on Wednesday, the (Provisional Elections Council, CEP)

However on the same day, CEP human rights representative Jaceus Joseph finally

Jovenel Moise, the governing party's candidate, is set to face Jude Celestin in

Moise got 32.81 percent of the vote in the first round on October 25, followed

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/75754-haiti-protests-grow-amid-electoral-fraud-allegations>

Radio Habana Cuba