

El Salvador and Nicaragua Look to Tackle Gang Violence

Image not found or type unknown

Managua, November 16 (teleSUR-RHC)-- With high rates of violence still

In particular, the heads of state focused on the problems faced in vio

"Today, the threat to peace in the Central American region, the threat to the

Ortega also called for the international community, including the United State

A 15-month truce between rival gangs in El Salvador launched in 2012 temporari

Critics say the truce failed to address the underlying causes of El Salvador's

Ortega called for a comprehensive plan to address gangs, including strategies

Salvadoran President Sanchez has repeatedly rejected the idea of entering into

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/75994-el-salvador-and-nicaragua-look-to-tackle-gang-violence>

Radio Habana Cuba