

Black Women March Against Violence in Brazil

Image not found or type unknown

Brasilia, November 19 (teleSUR-RHC)-- According to organizers, at least

They came from around the country for the occasion, and gathered outside

On October 21st, a lower chamber commission approved a bill seeking to limit a

Minister of Women, Racial Equality and Human Rights Nilma Lino said the demons

"This is the first march of Black women that aims to draw society and political

Vanda Mendez, one of the movement's leaders, highlighted that in recent years,

Nevertheless, such achievements are being questioned, with "Black women living

Black women, who suffer from both racial and gender discrimination, are more l

The findings take place as the Brazilian government took an important step ear

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/76326-black-women-march-against-violence-in-brazil>

Radio Habana Cuba