

Aid Convoy Reaches Besieged Town in Syria Amid Starvation Reports

Damascus, January 13 (RHC)-- An aid convoy has reached the besieged Syrian town of Madaya, where the United Nations says it's received credible reports of people starving to death.

About 40,000 people have been trapped in the rebel-held town for six months. The shipment was the first foreign aid to reach Madaya since October.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/81237-aid-convoy-reaches-besieged-town-in-syria-amid-starvation-reports>

Radio Habana Cuba