

20 Richest People in the U.S. Have More Wealth than Half of Country

New York, January 18 (RHC)-- A recent report shows the 20 richest people in the United States own more wealth than half of the population of the U.S. combined.

The report, published by Chuck Collins and Josh Hoxie of the Institute for Policy Studies, shows the top 20 wealthiest Americans hold about $732 billion. The report also shows that the 100 richest families in the U.S. have the same amount of wealth as all African Americans in the United States combined.
