

At Least Five Killed in Fresh U.S. Drone Strike in Eastern Afghanistan

Kabul, January 27 (RHC)-- At least five people were killed when U.S. military forces launched a fresh drone strike in Afghanistan's eastern province of Nangarhar.

Officials said that the aerial assault on Tuesday hit an area some 120 kilometers east of the Afghan capital, Kabul, killing five members of the Taliban militant group.

The attack came only two days after U.S. forces carried out a drone strike in Dih Bala district of the same Afghan province, killing 25 members of the Daesh Takfiri militant group.
