

Venezuela Says it Will Review Relations with the US

Caracas, march 4 (RHC)-- Venezuelan Foreign Minister Delcy Rodriguez strongly rejected statements by President Barack Obama, who renewed an executive order issued last March that declares Venezuela “an unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security and foreign policy of the U.S.”

The top Venezuelan diplomat read an official declaration on Friday condemning what she called a “double standard attitude” by Washington, adding that the decree is a violation of the UN Charter and that such actions seek to break the unity of the Venezuelan people.

https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/86240-venezuela-says-it-will-review-relations-with-the-

us

Radio Habana Cuba