

Follower of Donald Trump hit and punched two students

Havana, Mar 18 (RHC) A follower of the Republican candidate for the White House, Donald Trump, hit and punched two students, one Latin and another Muslim in the US state of Kansas, so revealed the local police.

The source showed a video of the attacker, who was at a gas station when assaulting the victims while they were filling the gas tank of their car and then, the attacker fled before security agents showed at the location.

Before leaving the scene on a motorcycle, he insulted the two young students, ensuring the victory of Trump, saying all migrants would be deported.

"We will make the US a large country again (...) Losers will be dumped to the other side of the wall," said the attacker.
