

Venezuelan President Nicolas Maduro Calls for Economic Offensive

Caracas, Feb 8, -- Venezuelan President Nicolas Maduro called on the people to join a weekend economic action which entails the implementation of a law establishing fair commodity prices by setting up to 30% profit range in the sale of products and services.

We are going to implement the Fair Price Law to fight the economic war, Maduro wrote on his Tweeter Account.

Maduro stressed that the people's support in the action is crucial to protect the economic rights of all Venezuelans. The law establishes sanctions in the areas of production, distribution and commercialization of goods and services and it gave birth to a new office that controls and supervises the range of prices and gains.
