

Sebastian Gorka Leaves White House and Rejoins Breitbart News

Washington, August 28 (RHC)-- Donald Trump's former adviser Sebastian Gorka has left the White House and says he'll rejoin the far-right-wing website Breitbart News. The White House claims it fired Gorka, though Gorka insists he actually resigned.

The Jewish newspaper The Forward had reported that Gorka has ties to a Hungarian far-right, Nazi-allied group and that he supported an anti-Semitic and racist paramilitary militia in Hungary while he served as a Hungarian politician.

At Breitbart, Gorka will work alongside former White House chief strategist Steve Bannon, who also left the White House earlier this month.
