

Stevie Wonder Says Climate Deniers Either Blind or Stupid

New York, September 18 (RHC)-- Increasing climate chaos has driven a number of celebrities in the United States to warn of the dangers of global warming. At a recent "Hand in Hand" hurricane relief telethon, music legend Beyoncé warned that devastation from Hurricanes Harvey and Irma -- and massive flooding in South Asia -- is due to climate change.

The telethon kicked off with a message from Stevie Wonder, who called out climate deniers ahead of a rendition of the classic song "Stand by Me." Stevie Wonder said: "As we should begin to love and value our planet, and anyone who believes that there is no such thing as global warming must be blind or stupid."

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/141665-stevie-wonder-says-climate-deniers-either-blind-or-stupid>

Radio Habana Cuba