

Ninth Congress of Microbiology and Parasitology Begins in Havana

Havana, December 4 (RHC)-- The Ninth Congress of Microbiology and Parasitology began Monday in Cuba with delegates from more than 150 nations.

The participating scientists are paying tribute to the 80th anniversary of the Pedro Kouri Institute of Tropical Medicine, the institution dedicated to the study of infectious diseases.

Convened at Havana's International Convention Center, a seminar on HIV infection is being held at the same time as debates are taking place at the Congress.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/salud/149314-ninth-congress-of-microbiology-and-parasitology-begins-in-havana>

Radio Habana Cuba