

Personal driver sues Donald Trump for back wages in “callous display of unwarranted privilege”

New York, July 23 (RHC)-- In the United States, President Trump's longtime personal driver, Noel Cintron, has sued the Trump Organization, arguing he was not paid for more than 3,000 hours of overtime in recent years.

The lawsuit argues: “In an utterly callous display of unwarranted privilege and entitlement ... President Donald Trump has, through the defendant entities, exploited and denied significant wages to his own long-standing personal driver.”

Meanwhile, the Trump Organization is seeking to hire 61 foreign guest workers through the H-2B visa program to cook and clean at Trump's private Mar-a-Lago resort in Palm Beach, Florida.

While Trump has sought to crack down dramatically on nearly every form of immigration into the U.S. during his time in office, he has expanded the H-2B visa program, which benefits companies seeking to hire foreign workers for seasonal, low-wage work.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/167464-personal-driver-sues-donald-trump-for-back-wages-in-quotcallous-display-of-unwarranted-privilegequot>

Radio Habana Cuba