

U.S. Senate passes resolution condemning Saudi Crown Prince for Khashoggi murder

Washington, December 14 (RHC)-- In another vote related to Saudi Arabia, senators again rebuked Donald Trump. The U.S. Senate unanimously condemned the Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman, saying he is responsible for the murder of Jamal Khashoggi.

Donald Trump and a number of top White House officials have refused to acknowledge Saudi Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman's involvement in the murder of Saudi journalist Jamal Khashoggi, despite the CIA concluding with "high confidence" that he was directly responsible for ordering the killing.

Both Democratic and Republican senators have said for weeks they believe bin Salman is guilty. Khashoggi was a U.S. resident and columnist for The Washington Post. He was killed by Saudi agents after entering the Saudi Consulate in Istanbul on October 2nd.

The Washington Post ran a full-page ad on Friday calling for "meaningful action" to be taken over Khashoggi's murder. The ad reads, "A life is gone. The principles of free expression endure."
