

Donald Trump blasts Facebook, Twitter, Google for alleged bias

Washington, December 19 (RHC)-- U.S. President Donald Trump has blasted American internet giants, accusing them of bias towards the Democratic Party.

"Facebook, Twitter and Google are so biased toward the Dems," Trump tweeted on Tuesday, describing the matter as "ridiculous."

Trump had previously complained to the three firms that they were suppressing good news related to him and other Republicans, in favor of the Democrats. He claimed the formulas and algorithms used for search by Facebook, Twitter and Google had been "rigged" against him.

Trump warned the firms that they were "treading on very, very troubled territory and they have to be careful." He threatened them that they would face charges for setting their platforms search priority in favor of the left.

"Google & others are suppressing voices of Conservatives and hiding information and news that is good. They are controlling what we can & cannot see. This is a very serious situation and will be addressed!" Trump told the firms who provided the platforms that "they better be careful because they can't do that to people."

Facebook, Twitter and Google have rejected accusations of bias toward any political party, claiming they pursue no political agenda in their activities.
