

Cuban baseball starts out on the wrong foot in Lima 2019

Lima, July 29 (RHC) – The Cuban baseball team has added another disappointment to its recent record by losing 6-1 in their debut in the Lima 2019 Pan-Am baseball competition.

The Cubans were behind from the very beginning of the game and only scored one run, which leaves Manager Rey Vicente Anglada and his team with only 7 runs produced in the last 4 matches.

Anglada should make more than one adjustment if Cuba wants to advance to the competition's next stage. Next game for Cuba will be against the current champions, Canada.
