

Russian foreign minister to meet Cuban counterpart

Moscow, January 31 (RHC)-- Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov will visit Cuba on February 5th as part of a trip that will also take him to Mexico and Venezuela, Havana's ambassador in Moscow, Gerardo Peñalver, confirmed on Twitter.

Russian Foreign Minister Serguei Lavrov and his counterpart Bruno Rodríguez will meet in Santiago de Cuba next Wednesday.

"This year we are commemorating the 60th anniversary of the re-establishment of diplomatic relations (between Moscow and Havana)," the Cuban representative wrote on the social network.
