

U.S. service sector among hardest hit by lockdown for COVID-19

New York, April 5 (RHC)-- Unemployment in the United States is growing at an alarming rate and there have been significant job losses in the service industry. Jobs in bars, restaurants and hotels are being decimated, leaving many facing an uncertain future.

Retailers are also seeing dramatic changes as they are forced to lay off staff. According to reports, in states like Florida, where tourism is a key financial driver, the economic landscape is facing a dramatic change.
