France reports 13 more coronavirus deaths, total at 29,155

Paris, June 8 (RHC)-- France's coronavirus death toll, the fifth-highest in the world, has gone up by 13 to 29,155, the government said. The number of people in hospital intensive care units fell by six to 1,053, a smaller decrease than the previous day but extending a steady drop in critical cases since a peak of over 7,000 in early April, according to data posted on a government website.

The total number of people being treated in hospital for COVID-19 fell by 18 to 12,461. The number of confirmed cases of COVID-19, the disease caused by the novel coronavirus, rose by 343 to 153,997.
