

U.S. Justice Department and 11 states sue Google in antitrust lawsuit

Washington, October 22 (RHC)-- The U.S. Department of Justice has sued the internet giant Google, in a massive antitrust lawsuit that will have major implications for the rest of Big Tech — and could lead to the company's breakup.

The DOJ complaint was joined by attorneys general in 11 states. It reads, in part: "Google has used anticompetitive tactics to maintain and extend its monopolies in the markets for general search services, search advertising, and general search text advertising — the cornerstones of its empire."
