

Trump blasts Fox News over election coverage and plans launch of far-Right news company

Image not found or type unknown

Washington, November 13 (RHC)-- Donald Trump has tweeted or retweeted over a dozen posts, blasting Fox News and urging his supporters to switch to the far-right cable channel One America News Network and the website Newsmax. Trump was reportedly furious after Fox News became the first U.S. news outlet to declare Joe Biden's win in Arizona.

This comes as Axios reports Trump plans to start a digital media company to rival Fox News. Under the plan, Trump would tap into his huge database of e-mail and cellphone contacts with appeals to sign up for a monthly subscription for his new online channel.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/239652-trump-blasts-fox-news-over-election-coverage-and-plans-launch-of-far-right-news-company>

Radio Habana Cuba