

Trump vows to veto military spending bill over anger at Twitter and Facebook

Washington, December 5 (RHC)-- U.S. President Donald Trump has tweeted that he will veto the massive $740 billion National Defense Authorization Act, because Republican senators refused to include an amendment to strip legal protections for social media companies.

Trump is demanding the repeal of Section 230 of the Communications Decency Act to punish Twitter and Facebook, which he has accused of censoring his false and misleading tweets about the coronavirus and the 2020 election.
