

Brazilian president accused of “lethal incompetence” over lack of vaccine planning

Image not found or type unknown

Brazilian president accused of “lethal incompetence” over lack of vaccine planning

Brasilia, December 15 (RHC)-- In Brazil, critics are accusing far-right President Jair Bolsonaro of “lethal incompetence” after his administration failed to prepare for a mass vaccination program.

Bolsonaro -- who has called COVID-19 a “little flu” and has used homophobic slurs to mock face masks -- shunned Pfizer’s offer to sell its vaccine to Brazil and has pinned all his hopes on the Oxford-AstraZeneca vaccine. Bolsonaro also rejected China’s Sinovac vaccine, which has been promoted by São Paulo’s governor, who’s seen as a likely challenger to Bolsonaro’s reelection campaign in 2022.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/242305-brazilian-president-accused-of-lethal-incompetence-over-lack-of-vaccine-planning>

Radio Habana Cuba