

Trump won't pay Rudy Giuliani's legal fees as efforts to reverse election falls apart

Image not found or type unknown

Washington, January 14 (RHC)-- Donald Trump's aides have reportedly warned him he faces serious legal exposure once he leaves office. The Washington Post now reports Trump has instructed aides not to pay $20,000-a-day legal fees to his lawyer Rudy Giuliani, who's been working to overturn the results of the election.

According to The New York Times, Rudy Giuliani faces possible expulsion from the New York State Bar Association after he told Trump's mob on January 6: "Let's have trial by combat."

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/244637-trump-wont-pay-rudy-giulianis-legal-fees-as-efforts-to-reverse-election-falls-apart>

Radio Habana Cuba