

Bolivia to host International Indigenous Women's Summit

Image not found or type unknown

Indigenous women from more than 20 countries will discuss the environment, tackling climate change, femicides and other issues | Photo: EFE

La Paz, May 19 (RHC)-- The First International Summit of Indigenous Women of Abya Yala will be held May 27th and 28th in the department of Cochabamba, according to Bolivia's Vice Ministry of Communication.

Women from more than 20 countries are expected to participate with the goal of generating a proposal for the Permanent Forum of the United Nations.

Among the topics to be discussed will be the environment, confronting climate change, femicides and laws, decolonization and patriarchy, according to the executive of the Bolivia

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/257774-bolivia-to-host-international-indigenous-womens-summit>

Radio Habana Cuba