Moscow, December 15 (RHC)-- Russian President Vladimir Putin and Chinese President Xi Jinping met via video call on Wednesday as part of a virtual summit.

Putin hailed the cooperation between the two nations, citing mutual principles of “not interfering in [each other’s] internal affairs and respect for each other’s interests.”

The talks come as both China and Russia are facing heightened tensions with the U.S. and other Western powers. Putin also said he plans to meet with his Chinese counterpart during the upcoming Beijing Winter Olympics.

The U.S. and other Western governments have announced a diplomatic boycott of the games.
