

WHO confirms coronavirus infections surge to 15 million in one week

Image not found or type unknown

The World Health Organization says the number of confirmed coronavirus cases worldwide soared to 15 million last week — by far the highest weekly toll since the start of the pandemic. ?

Geneva, January 14 (RHC)-- The World Health Organization says the number of confirmed coronavirus cases worldwide soared to 15 million last week — by far the highest weekly toll since the start of the pandemic.

Countries across the globe, from Mexico to Argentina to the Philippines, have shattered previous records for new infections, and hospitalizations are rising rapidly in many places.

In Canada, Quebec's premier said that he will begin levying fines on adults who refuse to be vaccinated for nonmedical reasons.

German Chancellor Olaf Scholz told the parliament in Berlin that he'd like to make vaccinations mandatory for all adults.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/282834-who-confirms-coronavirus-infections-surge-to-15-million-in-one-week>

Radio Habana Cuba