New York, July 25 (RHC)-- In the U.S, the editorial pages of The Wall Street Journal and New York Post -- both newspapers owned by Rupert Murdoch -- have slammed Donald Trump for refusing to call off his supporters as they attacked the Capitol on January 6.

In its editorial, the New York Post wrote: “It’s up to the Justice Department to decide if this is a crime. But as a matter of principle, as a matter of character, Trump has proven himself unworthy to be this country’s chief executive again.”

Rupert Murdoch, a arch-conservative right-wing multi-billionaire, has long been a supporter of former President Donald Trump.
