Havana, January 11 (RHC)-- Portuguese striker Joao Felix arrived today on loan at Chelsea from Atlético de Madrid.

The great pearl of the Lusitanian football leaves Atletico on loan for six months and without option to buy, so at the end of the season he will have to return to the red and white club.

With this incorporation, Chelsea aims to climb positions in the English Premier League, in which it is ranked 10th, after a disastrous season.

Before the transfer, Felix extended his contract with Atletico for one more year, until 2027, as a guarantee.

It is worth remembering that Joao Felix arrived at Atlético de Madrid in 2019 from Portuguese club Benfica, for 127 million euros, in what became the highest transfer in the history of the Madrid club.
