President Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva is recovering well

Havana, March 27 (RHC) The Minister of the Communication Secretariat of the Brazilian Presidency, Paulo Pimenta, assured that President Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva is recovering very well and is making an effort to resume his agenda.

Based on medical guidance, the founder of the Workers' Party decided last Saturday to postpone his weekend trip to Beijing, suspension communicated to the authorities of that country.

A medical note indicates that Lula was admitted to the Sirio-Libanés hospital in Brasilia on March 23 with flu-like symptoms. After clinical evaluation, a diagnosis of bacterial and viral bronchopneumonia due to influenza A was made, and treatment was started.

When it is decided, the mechanical extorter will travel to the Asian giant accompanied by 102 businessmen, as well as governors, senators, deputies and ministers, to strengthen relations in different areas.

The federal government confirmed that the purpose of the trip is "to promote the relaunch of relations with what has been the country's main trading partner since 2009."

Journalistic media assure that, without defining the date of the trip, Lula will focus this week on the national agendas, such as the discussion on the new fiscal framework.

Pimenta clarified that the postponement of the trip was made by the Brazilian Government, and diplomacy determines that China chooses the new date. (Source: Prensa Latina)
