

President Maduro highlights excellent state of relations between China and Venezuela

Image not found or type unknown

Venezuelan President highlights excellent relations between Venezuela and China

Havana, March 28 (RHC) Venezuelan President Nicolás Maduro Moros highlighted the excellent state of relations between the two countries. In the act held at the Miraflores Palace, seat of the Government, the president, accompanied by other officials, awarded the Order of the Patriotic War to Chinese President Xi Jinping. The head of state meant that both countries have "perfect coordination" of diplomacy and international relations. Maduro pointed out that the ceremony and awarding had two very important components: one related to the awarding of the Order of the Patriotic War to Xi Jinping and the other to the awarding of the Order of the Patriotic War to the Chinese President. The head of state ratified his congratulations to Xi on his re-election as head of China, to the entire Chinese people and to the Chinese Communist Party. China shows signs that it can be a great power without being imperialist, extending its hands for cooperation and friendship. Li expressed his gratitude for the award received, and praised the deep traditional friendship between the two countries.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/318039-president-maduro-highlights-excellent-state-of-relations-between-china-and-venezuela>

Radio Habana Cuba