

Israeli minister calls nuclear attack on Gaza an option

Image not found or type unknown

Tel Aviv, November 7 (RHC)-- The Israeli prime minister was forced to suspend Israel's Jerusalem Affairs and Heritage Minister Amichai Eliyahu after he claimed there are no noncombatants in the Gaza Strip and said that dropping a nuclear weapon on the Gaza Strip is "an option."

This comes just days after an Israeli lawmaker from Netanyahu's ruling Likud Party took to social media to incite genocide. Writing on the social media site X, formerly known as Twitter, Galit Distel Atbaryan wrote: "Erase Gaza from the face of the Earth. Let the Gazan monsters rush to the southern border and flee into Egypt, or die."

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/338728-israeli-minister-calls-nuclear-attack-on-gaza-an-option>

Radio Habana Cuba