Beirut, November 13 (RHC)-- Israel's military says seven soldiers and 10 other people were injured Sunday in a rocket attack by Hezbollah fighters from southern Lebanon. It was the worst cross-border violence between Israel and Lebanon since an Israeli airstrike a week prior killed a Lebanese woman and three children.

On Sunday, Israel's minister of defense, Yoav Gallant, warned Hezbollah against further attacks on Israel, adding: "What we are doing in Gaza, we can do in Beirut."
