

Bolivian president arrives in St. Vincent and the Grenadines

Image not found or type unknown

Kingstown, March 1 (RHC)--The president of Bolivia, Luis Arce, arrived Thursday in St. Vincent and the Grenadines to participate in the VIII Summit of the Community of Latin American and Caribbean States (CELAC).

"We arrived in Kingstown, in St. Vincent and the Grenadines, where we will participate in the VIII Summit of the Community of Latin American and Caribbean States, CELAC," Arce highlighted in his X account. He also called attention to the value of unity, affirming that: "United we are stronger!"

With his arrival in St. Vincent and the Grenadines, the president begins an official tour that also includes his visit to Algeria, where he will participate in the VII Summit of the Forum of Gas Exporting Countries (FPEG), to be held soon.

The president affirmed that CELAC "is a mechanism that should allow us to deepen the unity of our America and consolidate our determined participation in the constitution of a new multipolar world".

CELAC is made up of Antigua and Barbuda, Argentina, Bahamas, Barbados, Belize, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, El Salvador, St. Kitts and Nevis, Grenada, Guatemala, Guyana, Haiti, Honduras, Jamaica, Commonwealth of Dominica, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, St. Vincent and the Grenadines, St. Lucia, Suriname, Trinidad and Tobago, Uruguay and Venezuela.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/348641-bolivian-president-arrives-in-st-vincent-and-the-grenadines>

Radio Habana Cuba